The Air Line Trail

The Air Line was once a railroad renowned for its relatively straight course from Boston to New York - "as if by a line drawn through the air." You can still find lumps of coal left over from the steam era. Today the rail bed has been converted to a Connecticut linear park and hiking trail.

ALONG THE AIR LINE...

Over 4,000 photos taken in all seasons
Plants, Animals, Landscapes – everything you're likely to see on the trail

Trail Brochure Available at Town Halls in East Hampton, Colchester, Hebron, and Lebanon, CT – or as a PDF at Stan's web site.

1) BELL TOWN VILLAGE CENTER & LAKE POCOTOPAUG East Hampton is called "Bell Town" as It was the conter of the bell making industry for the country. Taking a detour off the Trail at Cranberry Meadow onto Smith St. and travelling west leads to the Bell Town Vilage Center, a mecca for antique shoppers. Travelling north leads to the business center of East Hampton and Lake Pocotopaug. Caution is advised on busy roads. 2) CRANBERRY BOG This pond offers benches for resting; the sights of wildflowers and sounds of builfrogs in the summer, and picturesque ice skating and hockey games in the winter. Cranberry Meadow and Bog was once a natural cranberry producing bog. During the 1920's and 30's, the cranberries were harvested, transported to grocers, and bartered for groceries.

3) RAPALLO VIADUCT

Built in 1873 (as was its sister, the Lyman Viaduct, 1-1/2 miles east in Colchester, the Rapalic bears the name of a railroad director and was built for two train tracks. Originally a 1.380 tr. long bridge 60 ft. high above Flat Brook, the increasing weight of treight trains necessitated filling undermetaht it in 1913. The spectacular views of the marsh to the north and other natural surroundings make this a rare treat.

4) COMSTOCK BRIDGE The Constock Bridge was built in 1791 and rebuilt in 1860. It is one of any three remaining covered bridges in Connecticut. The Constock Bridge links East Hampton and Colchester and is approximately 1-1/4 miles south of the intersection of Colchester's Built III Road and the Air Line Trail. The bridge is open to pedestrian traffic and has a picnic area nearby.
